Hungarian Teachers in the UK

Two young teachers from Budapest, Czikai Zsuzsa and Péntes Kata, are in the UK on a course supported entirely by the Essex Branch of the ESU who recently visited Hungary.

They were met at Heathrow on their arrival and have been well looked after by ESU members there. We hope to have a detailed report of their experiences in the next edition of the Newsletter.

English Camp for Hungarian Students

This camp, held in Szigliget, in August, has been organised by teachers from Kiskunfélegyháza and Szentes. The cost for the ten-day course was 40,000 HUF, native English speakers offering their services free.

The programme includes morning English teaching, trips to local beauty spots, campfire parties singing English songs and a final concert by all of the students and teachers.

If you are a native English speaking teacher and would like to take part, or would like to sponsor such an event – or run one of your own – please get in touch with Steve Jones at the address provided.
